Five Girls Win Title As RHS Girl Staters

Cindy Schwab, Diane Knapp, and Peggy Solheim have been chosen to represent RHS at Girls State on June 3-9. Janet McNeely and Janet Guenther have been named the alternates.

The annual event will take place in Mitchell on the Dakota Wesleyan Campus. The week long occurrence is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Girls are chosen for this honor on the basis of achievement in church, home, and school activities. They also must exhibit leadership qualities and be actively exercising their talents. Requirements include that each girl must be in the top one-third of her class and that she be completing her junior year.

The purpose of Girls State is to bring knowledge of the fundamental principles of American government. This is done through actual practice by giving each girl an active part in government. Throughout the week, the girls will also learn the responsibilities as citizens and gain an understanding of the problems of government.

Representing Redfield will be Cindy Schwab, who has participated in debate, band, and one-act plays. She is a member of Pep Club and is an honor student. Also representing Redfield will be Diane Knapp, who is a member of AFS, girls track, chorus, band, Pep Club, Drama Club, and the yearbook staff. She has also been a member of debate and one-act plays. Diane is an honor student and a member of the National Honor Society and All-State Band.

Representing Frankfort will be Peggy Solheim. Peggy is a member of FHA, Pep Club, and Girls Track. She is also a teacher's aide and an office girl.

From The Editor...

Priorities Are Important Factors Of Life

Priorities, how important are they? Priorities are extremely important; they determine what is of importance and what is trivial in the life of an individual. To move in the direction of progress, an individual must have placed his priorities in a logical order.

What is important to us? What do we want out of life? What kind of people do we want to be? When one answers these questions, he is setting some priorities. We must learn to determine the trivial from the important and learn to make decisions that will insure tomorrow for ourselves and others. This is the only way we can continue to progress.

Life priorities cannot and should not be the same for every person; that would destroy our individuality. But we have to discover certain basic ideas that are important to all of us. Is school important? Certainly formal education is the foundation of all further learning, and we might as well not live if we don't plan to learn. What challenge would there be? What would overcome the boredom? The basic idea of school then is very important. School also offers a brilliant opportunity to interrelate to our counterparts. This, too, is essential to our development. It teaches us how to behave socially and molds our future social life.

To succeed in the American society, an individual must learn to compete and work himself to achieve success. We have opportunities all the time to compete; and if we begin overlooking this element and writing it off as not important, serious complications will arise. Take the example of the American Indian. His culture held competition in reproach, and when the Indian tried to fit into the white society, he could not do it with his attitudes toward competition.

A moral code is needed in a civilized society. Many people try to live without a moral code, and this is not possible when man is expected to stay within certain laws. Rather than tear down moral codes we must increase our self-respect and respect for others also.

Top priorities differ among people. For some it is success, or financial security, or personal prestige, or just plain happiness. Life would be long and dull without some degree of happiness. What good is life if we don't give it away or learn or accomplish or serve or struggle. What is important in life? We must decide.

FTA Journeys To Augustana

Mr. Henry Dunkel, the FTA advisor, took a group of FTA members to tour Augustana College in Sioux Falls on March 28.

Once a year the Redfield FTA chapter sponsors a trip to some eastern South Dakota College. The trip is paid for by the money taken in at the FTA football concessions.

The object of the trip is to give FTA members an idea of what the different colleges in the state have to offer. The trip to Augustana included a tour of the college with a special emphasis on the educational department.

This year five seniors and twenty juniors attended the tour. Last year's tour was at USD in Vermillion.

Nacor's News

AFS'er Visits Indian School

Two weeks ago I visited the Flandreau Indian School. I stayed for one week. They have a pretty school.

There are about 400 students there from all over the United States. The people were pretty nice to me. They have dormitories at the school and four students sleep in a room. At the school they have a free clinic, barbershop, washing machines, and free lunches. They eat all the time! At the meals they give much food. They gave me Indian bread and cookies.

There is a movie theater at the school and it costs about 50 cents for admission. Dances are held almost every Friday. Kids from the school play for the dances and they are really quite good. Many kids know how to play guitars. There is a recreation room open from 7:30-10 in the evenings. In the rec room are four pool tables, two ping pong tables and pinball machines. A canteen is on the campus which has a cafe, pool tables and pinball. This is popular in the evening for social gathering.

They took me to Sioux Falls for the State A Basketball Tourney. That was great. I saw some of my Redfield friends there. They lead quite a different life. I came home one week early because I missed the people in Redfield. It was an educational experience.

FFA Judges Meat, Dairy

FFA'ers attended the judging competition at Hoven on March 31, and a dairy school at Sioux Falls on March 30. Redfield placed 7th out of 14 schools in the judging competition.

Competing at Hoven in the meat judging competition were Jim Haider, George Schade, Don Nelson, and Dale Crump. Terry Anderson, Bob Nuhsbaumer, Dennis Sanger, and Mark Engelbrecht contended in the dairy cattle and dairy products division.

Traveling to Sioux Falls Friday were Jim Haider, George Schade, Don Nelson, and Dale Crump studying meats. Jerry Levtzow, Doug Fink, Dave Jessen, Joel Haber, and Rick VanVleet studied livestock.

The first part of the day the FFA'ers observed already judged meat and livestock as a learning process of evaluating. In the afternoon the students judged their division. They competed against students from only their own school.

Nurses Travel To FNA Convo

State Future Nurse officers will be elected at the state Future Nurses State Convention in Britton on April 13-14. Penny Solheim is Redfield's candidate for the position of secretary - treasurer.

All FNA members are encouraged to attend the two-day event. The girls will leave early Friday and stay overnight in the Britton auditorium. They will be given a tour of the Britton museum and will have an opportunity to view a show.

A banquet is to be held on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Farrar will be present to speak with the girls.

A fee of $3.50 will be charged. It includes the three meals the girls will be served.

Key Club Wins Annual Faculty, Keyette Games

Redfield's Key Club sponsored their annual Key-Keyette and Key-Faculty basketball games on April 3, 1973 in the Redfield Armory. The Key Club came away with two victories, winning both games by narrow margins.

In the opening contests the non-jock Key Clubbers met the senior girls of the Keyettes. The Key Club wore eye patches, overshoes and mittens as handicaps to even up the odds for the game.

The evening's finale saw a very tight battle between the RHS faculty and the Key Clubbers of the varsity basketball team. The faculty squad moved to a narrow lead early in the contest, but the Key Club quickly got back in the game. In the second quarter it looked like it would be a see-saw battle all the way, but toward the end of the half the Key Club displayed a formidable running game and moved to a ten point lead 35-25.

The second half was played on fairly even terms until late in the fourth quarter when the faculty behind Mr. Sam Willits and center Mr. Art Tiff, put on a good show of hustle but the move came too late and the Key Club wound up with a 65-59 win.

Although the faculty held the edge in muscle, it was speed that determined the game. The rebounding probably went to the faculty although correct statistics are not available. The scoring went like this: for the Key Club Randy Bush led the offense with 18 points followed by Daryl Jungwirth who hit 15. Tom Moon and Randy Swedeen kicked in eight apiece. Mr. Tiff and Mr. Willits shouldered most of the faculty offense hitting about 20 point apiece.

Redfield School Hot Lunch Program Has Been In Operation Since 1954

BY SHIRLEY SANTE AND BETH OSBORN

Redfield's School Lunch Program was started in 1954 with 150 students participating. Now the daily average numbers around 900. Mrs. Kenneth Greeno has been the manager all of the 18 years the program has been in operation.

During the first years only two cooks assisted her; now six full time ladies — Nellie Moeller, Arlene Mowry, Viola Hall, Eulalia Leesch, and Mary Wilson in addition to Mrs. Greeno are employed. The program has purchased all its own equipment and pays all expenses, including salaries.

Redfield is one of the largest single unit operations in the state and one of the few schools still to charge 25 cents per meal, and also one of the few schools that give seconds on milk, bread and other foods, for no additional charge. Due to the increase in food prices it has been necessary to cut down on some seconds and thirds, but the program tries always to have extra food on the seconds table so that everyone gets plenty to eat. This has been done rather than to increase the price of meals.

According to Mrs. Greeno, one of the big reasons for the low cost of meals, speedy service and low labor cost is the excellent student help throughout the day. Students do a variety of jobs, starting with buttering the bread in the morning. They also serve the milk and main meal as well as seconds, and help with food preparation such as peeling 30 dozen eggs at one time. They also do some of the heavy lifting, sweeping and scrubbing. Students are paid $10 each semester and have extra servings and treats with their free meals. Presently there are 20 lunchroom workers and 4 playground supervisors. "They have the sincere thanks of the lunchroom staff, the students, and the public," said Mrs. Greeno.

So far this year (130 days), the school lunch program has served approximately 4,000 loaves of bread, 6,000 gallons of milk with meals, 5 to 6,000 gallons of fruit and vegetables and 16,000 pounds of meat such as hamburger, beef, wieners, chicken, pork, fish, turkey, etc.

Mrs. Greeno states, "Since 'Nutrition' is to total health what reading is to total education, we feel the lunch program plays an important role in the school. The adequacy of food, as well as the lack of food, is the single most important factor in a student's environment which determines how he looks, thinks, acts, and feels. As such, food comes first in youth-power. No other environmental factor acts upon man so despotically or leaves such a mark as the factor of nutrition."

Student Lunchroom Crew Promotes Efficiency

Unbelievables Reign As Soph Champions

The Unbelievables, coached by Tim Booze, took the sophomore girls' basketball crown at the tournament held on March 27. They defeated the Red Hot Lovers 14 to 11 in the Championship game to gain first place.

Dianne Strande, Darlys Olson, and Suzanne Moon paced The Unbelievables' scoring with four points apiece. Kathy Jungwirth played a good defensive game and managed one field goal. Dana Sporer and Cindy Hansen were leading scorers for the Lovers with three points apiece.

The Lovers, under the coaching of David Wilson, made it into the deciding game by defeating the Grubs by a 22-8 margin. The Lovers' scoring attack was led by Cindy Hansen, who ended with a 12-point showing. Jody Munger added four points. Laura Goetz and Nancy Rude each put in two for the Grubs.

Dianne Strande and Fay Woodfork accounted for 18 points in the first game of the evening as The Unbelievables defeated the Go-Go-Gophers by a lopsided score of 26-2. The Gophers were coached by Kendall Swedeen.

Kathy Jungwirth, Darlys Olson, and Carrie Chesnik each put in three points for The Unbelievables. Julie Christman scored the lone field goal for the Gophers.

requests a one-advisor-to-every-four-students ratio in all high school visits because of trouble that has occurred in the past. The girls also asked if it would be possible to tour the Redfield State Hospital and School. Mr. Meyer said that the administration has no objection to such a tour, and the Student Council advised these seniors to work out a schedule with their senior teachers so 15 students can tour the institution at one time.

Student Council deliberated on the availability of folders that have high school rules and regulations printed on the inside covers. This was made into a motion and voted down by the Council.

Another item discussed was whether a magazine rack and magazine covers should be made available in the Commons Area. A committee consisting of Kevin Gaulrapp and Daryl Jungwirth will look into the matter.

The proposed interim with Rapid City was also discussed. The Student Council decided to send letters out to Northeast Conference schools in connection with a similar interim. No action will be taken until replies have been received.

The Council set up a committee to look for scenic pictures which will be purchased with the money given to the school by Jane Bradley, a 1972 RHS graduate, from an award she received. The committee consists of Kevin Gaulrapp, Rick Brown, and Daryl Jungwirth.
