From The Editor...

Man Is A Player Of Roles

Man is an actor, a player of roles. According to William Shakespeare, "All the world's a stage and all men are merely players." Some people take their parts seriously while others create an unearned, favorable image through superficial, popular opinions and actions.

We often play an insincere role. From the conquering or suffering hero image, we attempt to display a character that is more than what we are so that we may trap the respect of the naive masses. Covering up our faults, we strive to dazzle people with our accomplishments.

In high school this can be accentuated by the number of extra-curricular activities half-heartedly undertaken. We associate ourselves with the various service clubs and sports activities for the sake of building stepping stones of popularity. This decays the purpose of the organizations and defeats ourselves.

When we abuse the true ideals of any organization, we destroy its image and turn that distinguished organization into a mockery. We hamper the effectiveness of those sincere members by rousing the mistrust of others not associated with the club. This is sin.

The following statement by Reverend Vernon Morrison exemplifies the incorrectness of degrading clubs and our own ideals. "Sin is being less than or causing someone to be less than they could be at their best."

The time is now to stop and think over the meaning we have placed on our lives. If we don't particularly like the role we've played, the long journey of self-satisfaction must begin. To develop a strong character, William Shakespeare states, "Best men are often moulded out of faults."

Bonjour a Tous...

Flandreau Indian School Hosts

I arrived on Tuesday night, March 2, at Flandreau Indian School. There are 450 students coming from nine states and thirty-seven tribes. To be a student here, one must be one-fourth Indian. Most of them go back home only at Christmas and June.

My schedule is very easy. From the first to the fifth period I go from class to class. During the two last periods I go to Indian culture, where I try to learn a little of their traditional crafts.

One evening I was invited by the Indian Club, which was having a dance. Everyone was in costume. Costumes vary from tribe to tribe. The design of the beadwork can be flowers or geometric. One girl lent me a costume made of buckskin. It is pretty heavy. I like their kind of music. At the beginning I had difficulties to feel it. It was so unusual, this mixed sounds of the drums and musicians' yelling of songs. Little by little I felt it and then my steps were natural. It was a great experience and lots of fun, these dances. The arms are not used, only the legs moved and the movement of the knees is difficult to catch.

This week, Yukio, Japanese AFS student, and I will present our own country to the student body by showing them slides and having questions. When we first met the Indian students, they are more shy than the white students but later, very friendly.

During two weeks, four senior boys or girls are going downtown to live in an apartment. They have to run the house, cooking, washing and ironing clothes! It seems to be a very successful experience. This off-campus experience gives them more responsibilities and more opportunities to be in contact with life.

At school the students have not only to keep their rooms clean but do details (dish washing, hall cleaning, help at the kitchen, cooking . . .). If the work is not satisfactory, they get points and have to work fifteen minutes to make up one point.

The students can work for credit. A credit is equal to one hour of work and one dollar. You must have ten credits to have a ticket to go buy a pair of shoes.

1971 Boys State Alternates Chosen

Bill Kent, Ron Chinn, Scott Tennill, and Wayne Avery have been named alternate delegates to Boys State. The boys were selected by the American Legion on March 3.

Debaters Will Compete In State Speech Contest

Anella Shinnick and Tom Gallagher will be Redfield's representatives to the South Dakota State Debate Tournament on March 22-23. They will compete on a two-man basis in "A" debate, while Anella will also be in the "A" original oratory competition. Redfield hosted the District Tournament on March 9-10, which determined the qualifiers for the State Tournament.

There will be sixteen teams participating in the "A" debate division and eight in each individual event. Winners from this tournament advance to the national tournament.

Four teams qualify from each district for "A" debate, while two advance in the "B" division. In three rounds of "A" debate in the tournament in Redfield, three teams were undefeated. To determine the fourth team, Anella and Tom had to debate an Aberdeen Central team. They won the debate on a split decision of the judges. Debby Jones and Joanna Jockheck went 1-2, both of their losses going to undefeated teams.

Anella took first in "A" original oratory. The top two finishers in each individual event will compete in the state meet. In extemporaneous speaking, Tom Gallagher was entered in the men's division and Joanna Jockheck competed in the women's division.

Band To Perform Annual Concert

Band Director Mayo Weisflock and 92 RHS band members will present the Spring Band Concert tonight in the high school auditorium. The concert will begin at 7 p.m.

The concert will open with "Britanny," a march by Peter Sivanich, and will be followed by "Trumpet Song." This is a solo to be played by Tim Stanley, RHS senior, accompanied by the band. Several popular medleys will be included in the concert as well as selections from the movie, PAINT YOUR WAGON.

cause of social criteria (alcoholism, not enough school on reservations . . .) and a lot are orphans. I admire these kids. They have tremendous difficulties; they can't have the help of the family unit because they are away from home.

One of the most important principles is "Do unto others as you wish them to do unto you." Sharing, freedom, honor are very important feelings which must be respected. They judge you from your inside, your value and not your wealth or your family background. I appreciate this and their honesty.

Patterson Evades Sisseton Defenders

Ed Gallagher screens out a Redman so Bob Patterson can drive for two. Redfield emerged victorious in their last regular game of the year with the Sisseton Redmen 80-61. The game was played at the Redfield Armory on March 5.

RHS Wrestlers Finish Successful Mat Season

Redfield's wrestling team finished the 1970-71 season with an 11-2 dual meet record. Dave Albrecht and Mike Remillard were selected by their teammates as honorary co-captains.

The Pheasants finished the season in a tie with Webster for the Northeast Conference league championship. The grapplers also won the NEC Tournament and the Aberdeen Invitational. RHS placed second behind Watertown in the Section I Tournament and placed 13th in the state classic, having Dave Albrecht and Keith Farnen as fourth place finishers.

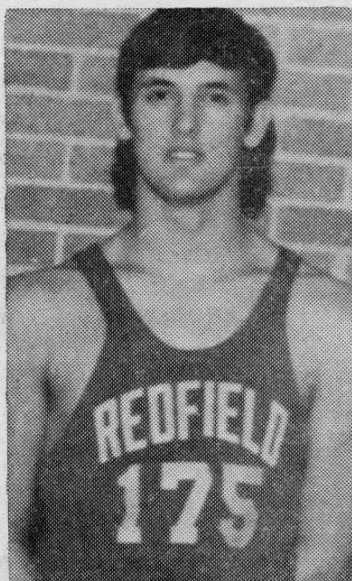

The 1970-71 letterwinners were chosen by Coach Richard Strande. Mike Remillard, Russ Simon, Rod Rohlf, Dave Albrecht, Mike Osborn, and Steve Thomas were the senior lettermen.

Juniors winning letters were Keith Farnen, Bruce Cartner, Dave Nelson, Gary Lambert, and Jesse Wright. Paul Patterson was the lone sophomore to win a letter, and Steve Jessen and George Hirsch were the freshmen letter winners.

Dave Albrecht led the RHS grapplers with a total of twelve pins and 96 points scored. Albrecht also had the best record, 24-2.

Redfield has a good future with eight lettermen and some fine reserve wrestlers returning next season. The team will be strong in the light weight division, but most of the heavier wrestlers are graduating. The coaches this season were Mr. Richard Strande, varsity, and Mr. Tony Lorenz, reserve coach. Both coaches were in their first year at the job.

Cagers Drop Eagles In Sectional Finals

By virtue of their Section IV championship, the Golden Pheasants will travel to Sioux Falls this week to participate in the South Dakota State Class A Tournament. The Pheasants' first game will be played at 9:00 p.m., Thursday evening. They will be going against the Sioux Falls Washington Warriors, a top-ranked team in the state.

Washington has a tall team with much scoring potential. They are the champions of Section III, in which they beat the other Sioux Falls schools, Lincoln and O'Gorman. They have lost four games this season; most of these defeats were administered by Iowa teams. In a recent Class A poll, the Warriors were ranked second, while in the same poll the Pheasants were ranked eighth.

Play begins at Sioux Falls at 1:00 p.m. Thursday afternoon. Semifinals are held Friday evening, and the runner-up and championship games will be played Saturday night. Consolation rounds will take place Friday and Saturday afternoons. This is the first trip to a State tournament since 1942 for the Pheasants. In that year Redfield traveled to the State B classic and won the championship.

SECTIONAL

Mobridge and Aberdeen Central fell victims to the Pheasants as Redfield won the Section IV championship for the first time. The wins pushed Redfield's season record to 19-3.

For the third time this season, Redfield defeated Mobridge; the score was 92-65. Robert Patterson led Redfield scorers with 24 points, with Dave Battey close behind with 21. Terry Newman added 15, while Chuck Welke and Dennis Lovett scored 11 and nine, respectively. The Pheasants shot 56% for the game. In rebounding, Lovett led with 12 while Ed Gallagher pulled down five.

Coach Lon Scriver felt the Pheasants played a good game and opened it up with their running, which he claimed was the difference in the game. He said RHS played steady ball, and that consistency was the key to the victory.

Redfield defeated Rberdeen Central of the Eastern South Dakota Conference 67-60 in the championship game. Battey paced Redfield with 32 points, and Patterson put in 19. Newman and Welke had eight and four, respectively, and Lovett and Gallagher each had two.

In this game, Redfield had a shooting percentage of 47%. They also connected on 27 of 31 free throws, which was a key factor in the victory. Lovett again led in rebounds with 11, and Welke, Patterson, and Battey each had five.

Coach Scriver said the Central game was definitely not one of the Pheasants' better games. But, considering the pressure, he said, the team played as well as could be expected. He felt they came through when the pressure was greatest, which he claimed the mark of a championship team. He said the players deserved it, and that the championship has been long in coming; he added that he's looking forward to going to Sioux Falls this week.

SISSETON

Regular season play closed for the Golden Pheasants on a triumphant note. Redfield's cagers defeated the Sisseton Redmen 80-61 in a game at Redfield March 5. The victory was the ninth in a row for RHS, and the seventeenth in twenty games this season.

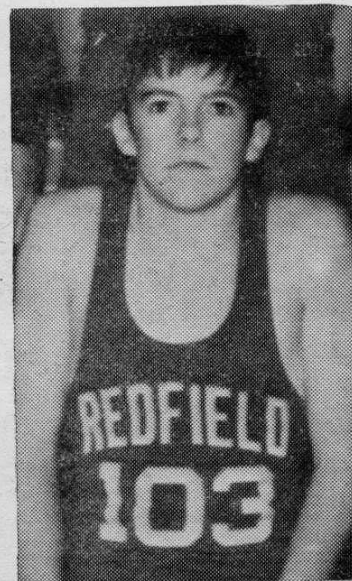

Dave Battey's 35 points led the Pheasants and gained for him the Northeast Conference scoring championship. Dennis Lovett took individual honors in rebounding by grabbing 13.

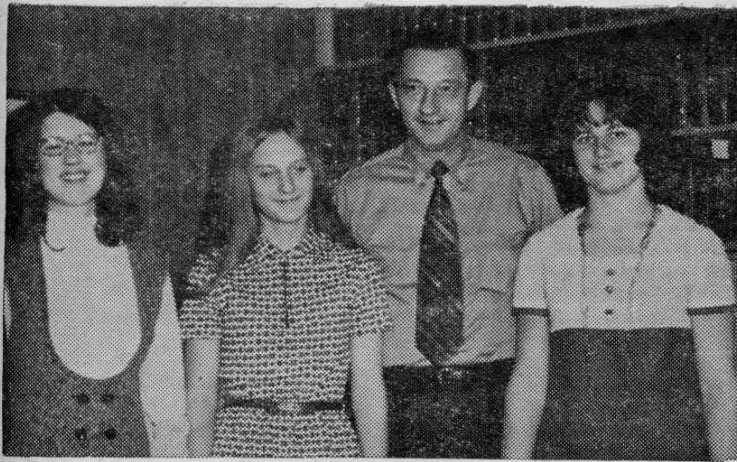

Wrestlers Place In State Contest

Two members of the RHS wrestling squad placed fourth in State "A" Wrestling Tournament. The tournament was held in Huron on February 26 and 27.

David Albrecht, left, earned a 24-2 record which included 12 pins. Dave won championships in the NEC, Aberdeen Invitational, and Sectional Tournaments.

Keith Farnen ended the season with an 18-7 record. He placed second in both the NEC Tournament and the Aberdeen Invitational. Farnen also placed third in the Section I Tourney.

Upperclassmen Observe Legislature At Pierre

On March 1, 85 seniors traveled to Pierre to view the South Dakota State Legislature in session. Accompanying the group were Mr. James Wallman, Mr. Rollie Nielson, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilits.

After a tour of the capitol building, the group went to the South Dakota Educational Association and High School Athletic Association building. There Representative William Danekas of Spink and Because of the limited time, the group was able to view only the Senate in session. Senator Harvey Wollman, representative from this area, rose and acknowledged the Redfield students in the visitors' gallery.

From the Department of Public Instruction, Mr. Larry Dirksen showed slides of points of interest in and around the capitol building. He explained some of the history concerning the capitol building and Pierre.
